HOPE MILLS POLICE DEPARTMENT UPDATE:

Hope Mills Pd has created a new mental health initiative called the "Employee Resiliency Program". As law enforcement officers face unique mental health challenges due to the stressful and potentially traumatic nature of their work, the implementation of this comprehensive mental health protocol can help support our officer's psychological well-being and improve overall job performance and community relations. The plan of action is to expand this program townwide to all employees as we currently work with Human Resources on a massive Recruitment and Retention initiative to explains our current benefits package.
